

Newsletter No. 23

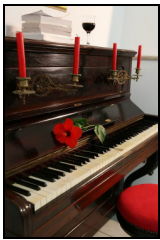

August 2010

Dear Friends,

Work overload prevented me from sending out a July Newsletter, but I missed communicating with you, even if in reality it is more of a monologue than a conversation!

Our latest news (mostly artistic!):

Music

Our grandmother's piano, bought from France in the early 20th century, transported to Istanbul where she lived as a girl, and then to Greece where she moved in the 1950s, has received a major "renovation" and is now ready to live a new life here at Daphne's Club.

Painting

We have added a new activity to our list of proposed workshops: painting. Painter Anna Strickroth from Bavaria, who lives and works in the nearby village of Kamari, will be painting classes of one hour or more to individuals or small groups. Among her themes is one of our favorite: painting the pebbles and larger stones collected on our beach.

Dance

Our annual German-language oriental dance workshop, which will be taking place this year between the 10th and the 17th of September, still has a couple of free places, so it's not too late for you to rehearse your shimmies and book your plane ticket!

On the excursions front, we are extremely happy to announce that the Loutraki wellness, an old old spa with real mineral water, has been completely renovated and is now open to the public at very reasonable prices. Loutraki is an hour's drive from Daphne's Club.

Our website has also received a new addition: a webpage in Turkish describing the hotel and our area:
